Today
Employment Problem.
Better Brains.
Everybody Happy.
Pity Poor China.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S forceful address to nearly 400 industrial leaders in Washington is one for which the country will thank him. It is bound to produce results.

There is no cause for any pessimism or permanent discouragement. But the well-informed men know that there has been a sharp increase in unemployment.

We have in the United States probably fully as many unemployed as there are in Britain, where government pays a "dole," enough to live on each week to those out of work.

WE have here 2,000,000 more unemployed than they have in France, where unemployment is practically unknown.

And this is surprising in the richest, most prosperous country on earth.

The president is determined to do something about it.

PROF. VON ECONOMO tells other scientists at Columbia college medical center that man's brain is improving, developing more. And the superman, mentally speaking, is coming.

THE learned Von Economo believes that "new organisms of thought" may develop in the course of evolution.

Studying the modern man, of the prehistoric man, shows extraordinary development.

THERE is every reason to be hopeful. Twelve thousand years ago, men were in the late Stone Age. We have done a great deal in 12,000 years. The life of man on earth is only starting. The earth will last for hundreds of millions of years. Science proves it.

Something ought to be done now.

It would interest and, possibly, frighten us, if we could know what we shall look like at the end of the first hundred million years.

Man, perhaps, will be an enormous head, round and smooth, traveling at will through the air, talking to other planets, with this earth transformed into one big garden, machinery doing all the work, nobody trying to cheat anybody else, nobody trying to pile up money selfishly, any more than a man today would seek to accumulate salt water, with the ocean full of it.

THE learned professor even hints that in future man may be born with a brain sufficiently developed to understand Einstein's relativity theory at sight.

It would not be necessary then for a philosopher to die as the great Hegel died, according to Heine's description, saying "only one man has ever understood me," and adding, after a pause, "and even he did not understand me."

SECRETARY of State Stimson considers the incident of our appeal to Russia closed, thinks that "our aim is achieved."

Livloff, speaking for Russia, says: "Russia will not yield one inch," and defies the United States.

Both sides seem to be happy.

ON this side, some cannot understand why it was necessary for our government to tell Russia what to do. Why were we chosen to pull the chestnuts out of the fire for France and Great Britain?

Representations concerning China would have come with much better grace from one of those countries than from this country. Which, with its nose in the air, refuses to recognize the Russian government.

What influence, under those conditions, persuaded Uncle Sam to play the part of the monkey in the fable pulling out the chestnuts?

POOR China has troubles worse than mere invading and bullying by Russia.

Shanghai sends news of Chinese soldiers, tens of thousands, in mutiny, looting a city, and fleeing with much needed railroad stock.

AND AMOY reports hordes of brigands, called "a Red army," pillaging and killing.

Modern weapons, modern Russian teachings and the attempt to establish modern democratic government have not worked well in a country unprepared for those things.

MARTIAL law was declared in Haiti, following widespread strikes that began with a strike of school teachers.

The local gendarmerie are commanded by officers from our Marine Corps.

THE president's message announced a desire, if possible, to withdraw our soldiers from Haiti.

There seems slight chance of withdrawal now. Let us hope Russia won't write and tell us what we ought to do about it.

Governor Will Visit City On December 18

STATE CHIEF TO VIEW "ROAD OF MEMORY"

Highway Director Waid Will Accompany Executive.

TWO-DAY TRIP
Commissioners Will Join Party in County Tour.

Governor Myers Y. Cooper and State Highway Director Robert N. Waid, Columbus, will visit East Liverpool on Wednesday, December 18, when he will start a two-day trip over the proposed "Road of Remembrance" between the Ohio river and Kingsville on Lake Erie.

The announcement was made to members of the Columbiana county commissioners, who with their clerk, L. H. Johnson, and County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk, visited Columbus on Thursday.

The commissioners were informed that the governor, with Waid and other highway department officials, had arranged for the eastern Ohio visit. The trip will start at East Liverpool on the morning of the 18th and end at Kingsville on the afternoon of the 19th.

The two state officials probably will be accompanied by the commissioners of counties through which the road passes—Columbiana, Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashland.

The proposed road will follow Route No. 7 between East Liverpool and Youngstown. The road will be lined with shade trees in honor of the men who served in the World war.

China in Throes Of New Rebellion

LONDON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—China is in the throes of another rebellion which threatens to shake the Nationalist government of President Chiang Kai-Shek from its foundations, dispatches from the far-east indicated today.

Martial law is now in force not only in Canton and other southern cities but in the capital of the Nationalist government, Nanking.

There have been so many mutinies in the Nationalist ranks in the valley of the Yangtze that the mutineers have organized themselves into a powerful rebel army of 49,000 men which is now reported to be entrenched along the Tientsin-Pukow railway about 55 miles from Nanking.

Y. M. C. A. 3-R Club Plans Treasure Hunt

The 3-R club was the name selected for the new young men's unit at a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. last night. Ralph Fugate was appointed temporary chairman.

Edwin Smith discussed club purposes. E. M. Carlton, boys' work secretary, outlined a plan for a city wide treasure hunt for boys during the holidays. Next meeting will be held at Y. M. C. A. at 6:15 Friday night.

Midland, Pa., Man Dies in Rochester

MIDLAND, Pa., Dec. 7.—Albert Floodstrom, 58, employed by the Packintosh-Hemphill company, died of pneumonia last night in the Rochester General hospital.

Floodstrom, who was found early Wednesday morning at Sixth street and Midland avenue, was first believed to have sustained a fractured skull in a fall on the ice.

He leaves a brother and sister in McKeesport, Pa.

Alleged Salary "Buyers" Fined.
COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 7.—(INS)—Five alleged "salary buyers" were fined $100 each today when they appeared in municipal court here to answer to charges of collecting an illegal rate of interest on loans on salaries.

Annual membership meeting of Columbiana County Motor Club Monday Dec. 9, 8 p. m. Grill room Travelers' hotel. All members are urged to be present.—Ad.

WILL VIEW ROAD

Governor Myers Y. Cooper, accompanied by State Highway Director Robert N. Waid, of Columbus, will visit East Liverpool on Wednesday, December 18, when he will start a two-day tour of inspection over the proposed "Road of Remembrance," extending from East Liverpool, on the Ohio river, to Kingsville, on Lake Erie.

Chester Pastor In Boyce Pulpit

The Rev. C. J. Bland, pastor of the Chester Methodist Episcopal church spoke on the subject "She Hath Done What She Could," in the "Win My Chum" services in the Boyce Methodist Episcopal church, Klondike, last night.

"God wants us to do our best," he said. "He wants the whole of our lives. Because of this the young people should turn to Him instead of spending the best part of their lives in the service of Satan. If we demand the best of our friends, surely God will not demand less than the best of us."

Tomorrow will be the close of the series of meetings. The pastor, Rev. E. C. Brooks, will preach in the morning on "God's Vineyard." His evening topic will be "Cisterns." The Rev. O. L. Benedict, pastor of the Nazarene church, will be in charge of the afternoon meeting at 2:30.

Bandits Hold Up Restaurant Patrons

CLEVELAND, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Brandishing revolvers, two bandits held up and robbed 10 customers and the cashier of a downtown Cleveland restaurant early today. They escaped with only $50 from the cash register and an unestimated amount from the customers.

Enforce Ordinance On "Street" Garages

Ordinance prohibiting all night and long period parking will be rigidly enforced in St. Clair avenue between Walnut and Wall streets, beginning tonight, Service-Safety Director John W. Moore announced today.

Complaints relative to automobile parking in these streets have been received by police. Many automobile owners, it is charged have no garages, parking their machines in the streets overnight.

Instructions have been issued to police to "tag" cars. Owners will be ordered to appear in court to answer to parking charges.

Claude Meeker, Wealthy Ohio Broker, Dies of Heart Attack

Democratic Political Leader Stricken in Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 7.—Claude Meeker, wealthy broker, author and political leader, is dead here today as the result of a heart attack which claimed his life in his suite in a downtown hotel here last yesterday afternoon.

Meeker, a democratic leader in the state, was chairman of the Ohio delegation to the Democratic National convention at Houston, Texas in 1928.

After the first roll call, Smith, who was defeated in the election

MARINES FIRE UPON STRIKERS IN HAITI ZONE

Five Natives are Killed and 20 Wounded.

SITUATION GRAVE
No Reports of Casualties Among "Leathernecks."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Five natives were killed and 20 were wounded yesterday when U. S. marines stationed in the republic of Haiti were "compelled to fire into a mob" of strikers at Aux Cayes, the state department announced today.

Secretary of State Stimson said the marines "fired three times in the air in an effort to disperse an angry mob of striking native dock workers and were forced to fire directly" into the mass of humanity when they refused to disband.

The cables did not state if any of the marines were killed or injured.

Congress was awaiting this afternoon President Hoover's message concerning the situation in Haiti, patrolled by American marines since 1921 when a rebellion threatened the country. It will be read to the house at noon.

Five hundred marines from the Quantico, Va., and Paris Island, S. C., barracks, sailed from Norfolk today to reinforce the 700 marines now on duty in the Negro republic. Stimson said. Those from Quantico enroute for Norfolk last night to board the transport.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—So serious has the strike situation become in Haiti that approximately 300 marine reinforcements are enroute to the Negro republic today, from the marine base at Quantico, Va., additional marines may go from Paris Island, S. C.

Secretary of State Stimson conferred for three-quarters of an hour with President Hoover over the situation today.

President Hoover is alarmed at the sudden change in the situation which has existed since October 31 when students and teachers went on strike because the school budget was cut $2,000. He sent a special message to congress yesterday advising of the grave developments.

$12,000 FIRE AT HOOKSTOWN

Flames Sweep Garage And State Road Equipment.

HOOKSTOWN, Pa., Dec. 7.—Officials of the state highway department, Harrisburg, are expected to arrive here today to investigate the origin of the fire which Tuesday morning destroyed the garage of Paul T. Robertson and several tractors, trucks, scrapers and other motorized equipment. The loss is estimated at $12,000.

Robertson said the blaze started when mechanics attempted to thaw frozen motors, igniting oil and gasoline on the floor of a one-story structure adjoining the garage. The flames spread to the garage and threatened the home of David Robertson and a dancing pavilion, nearby.

PASTOR FILES PROTEST ON CONCERT PLAN

Rev. A. H. O'Brien Opposes Sunday Programs.

EXPLAINS STAND
Committee Confers With Civic Music Leaders.

The Rev. A. H. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church, issued a statement today protesting against the concert to be given by Boston Women's orchestra at the Ceramic Theatre at 9:15 o'clock Sunday night under the auspices of the Civic Music association.

The Rev. Mr. O'Brien was a member of the committee from the Ministerial association appointed recently to inquire into the Sunday concert plans. This committee which also included the Rev. L. J. Davidson and the Rev. Dr. Warren O. Hawkins, conferred with accompanists of the association, but the Rev. Mr. O'Brien was unable to attend.

Action is Regretted.

His statement follows:
"It is with the deepest regret that I feel compelled to make this protest against the recent action of the Civic Music association in its break upon the Christian Sabbath by that it is departing from its usual custom of holding its entertainment on a regular week night and taking the unusual manner of placing this entertainment on the evenings of the Christian Sabbath."

"We are not in any sense unmindful of the cultural and educational values of good music but we do believe such values are completely lost when we destroy the moral and cultural values of the careful observance of this day, kept sacred by the church for almost 1900 years by all Christian creeds—the day made so outstandingly sacred by the miraculous resurrection of our Lord Jesus from the grave."

"Hence I take this method to openly protest and let the good people know where I stand."

Civic Music Leaders Silent.

The Ministerial association received the report of the committee at a meeting this week but decided to "let the matter drop for the present time," it was announced today.

Leaders of the music association said the concerts were arranged on Sunday night because the theater could be secured for a low rental on Sundays.

The Rev. E. A. Walker, pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian church, and president of the Ministerial association, and H. B. Barth, representative of the Civic Music association, today declined to comment.

CHRISTMAS NIGHT! MAIL EARLY

Your mail carrier is posing for you, loaded down with packages, as he undoubtedly will be when the day of Christmas rolls around. Postoffice authorities throughout the land are making their annual plea that gifts be mailed early to avoid the last minute rush, which invariably marks the week before Christmas, in the postoffices.

Frigid Wave Moves On Central States

Mercury Falls Below Zero in Northwestern Zone and in Canada.

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—(INS)—What may prove the most serious cold wave thus far this season was advancing out of the Canadian northwest toward the central states today, according to weather forecasters here.

Zero temperatures prevailed today in northwestern states and in Canada the mercury had sunk far below the zero point, according to reports.

C. A. Donnel, local forecaster, intimated that the approaching frigid wave appears to be the most severe thus far this season.

The family requests friends to view the body Saturday and Sunday nights.

Runaway Truck Hits Porch, Wall, Fence

Police today were investigating the damaging of a porch, wall and fence at the home of Mrs. Alice McGonigal, 313 Broadway, by a runaway automobile truck yesterday. The damage is estimated at $1,000.

The truck, carrying dealer's license plates, was owned by Roy Green, Church alley, police reported. Five minutes after the machine crashed into the house Green reported that he had left the machine parked in Broadway and when he returned it was gone.

Downtown Streets Get Yuletide Dress

The downtown business district, particularly Fifth street between Market and Washington streets, has taken on a Yuletide dress for the holiday season.

Thousands of brightly colored electric lights, intertwined with strings of laurel and in wealth formations, have been festooned along the fronts of stores. Strings of lights also arch the street.

Other electric decorations have been arranged in Washington street.

Merchants arranging this decorative scheme are members of the Retail Merchants' division of the Chamber of Commerce.

TOLL MOUNTS AS GALES LASH BRITISH COAST

Twenty-six Other Deaths in Storm Zone.

LINER DAMAGED

Channel Shipping Hit; Houses are Wrecked.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The toll of dead in the storms which have been sweeping Britain for the last 72 hours jumped today when the Cardiff steamer, Radrly, foundered off Hartland Point, Devon, with the loss of its crew of 25.

American Passengers in Peril.

Twenty-six deaths previously had been reported as the result of shipping and other accidents due to gales which have paralyzed transportation in the English channel and which have caused considerable damage to property.

The Radrly was a vessel of 2,357 tons. Little is known of the disaster save that the ship foundered in the heavy seas and the members of its crew were drowned before aid could be received.

The Blue Star liner Andalucia, bound from London for South America with 120 passengers, sustained damage to her rudder in the gale off Plymouth. A British admiralty tug was dispatched from the port to render assistance. Temporary repairs were effected and the Andalucia headed toward Falmouth where the damage will be thoroughly inspected.

FATHERS, SONS DINNER GUESTS

First U. P. Church Sponsors Annual Banquet.

Pertinent addresses and inspiring singing characterized a "Father and Son" banquet by members of the First United Presbyterian church in the Y. M. C. A. banquet hall last night. R. W. Sample, of the board of elders, presided.

Singing was in charge of the church's quartet, Carl and Emmett Gaston, Ben Laughlin and Leo Adams, accompanied by Miss Anna McLane. They sang "Drink to Me With Thine Eyes," "Love's Sweet Song" and led the assembly in singing "America."

The invocation and the benediction were pronounced by the Rev. L. J. Davidson, the pastor, who also made an address in which he stressed the need for an idea on the part of young people and the determination to carry it out.

Another musical feature was a saw solo contributed by Everett Lunsford.

Accompanied by his father Dr. Merle D. McCutcheon and his younger brother, Jack McCutcheon, Keith McCutcheon, who last summer attended the Boy Scout jamboree in Birkenhead, England, gave an account of his visit.

Emmett Gaston gave a comprehensive closeup of a father's feeling at different stages during the life of his growing boys.

D. M. Ogilvie spoke glowing of the present day opportunities of boys.

James Anderson, teacher of the Men's Bible class of the Sunday school, told of becoming a member of the church in his youth and stressed the way to development of character.

Another speaker was T. T. Jones. The affair was in charge of Elkie and Clark Allison, R. W. Sample, W. W. Sloan, Emmett Gaston, James Anderson and James Fox.

The eight-page paper will be in tabloid form, 11x16 inches. Its columns will be devoted to school news. A staff of reporters has been appointed in each building. Copy will be edited by high school students.

The paper will be financed through advertisements. It will be distributed to 5,000 school children.

Sore Throat? Don't Gargle

This Doctor's Prescription Gives Quicker, Better Relief

Don't suffer the pain and discomfort of sore throat. Use a doctor's prescription called Thoxine guaranteed to relieve with the very first swallow. Gargles and salves are so slow and if they do relieve, it is usually only temporary.

Thoxine has a double action—it relieves the soreness and goes direct to the internal cause. It contains no harmful drugs and is safe and pleasant for the whole family. There is nothing better to stop coughing due to irritated throats. Just ask for Thoxine, put up ready for use in 35c., 60c., and $1.00 bottles. Money back if not relieved. All Druggists.—Adv.

A new EASY WASHER

with copper tub and safety switch, only $109.50

F. O. B. SYRACUSE, N. Y.

These two wonderful features have never before been combined in any EASY Washer selling under $155! And they are but two of the many features which make this full-size, vacuum cup washer the biggest money's worth in wringer type washers. Don't take our word for it. Come in and see this outstanding value. Compare it with other wringer type washers selling up to $165.

Save $10 to $40

Two new features never before combined on EASY Washers selling below $155:

1. Copper tub, nickel plated inside—won't corrode—easy to clean—holds heat longer, so clothes are washed better—not affected by lye, water softeners or any kind of soap.

2. Safety starting and stopping switch.

Also these features:

3. Time-proved vacuum cup principle—washes cleaner because most like hand washing—forces cleansing suds gently through the clothes.

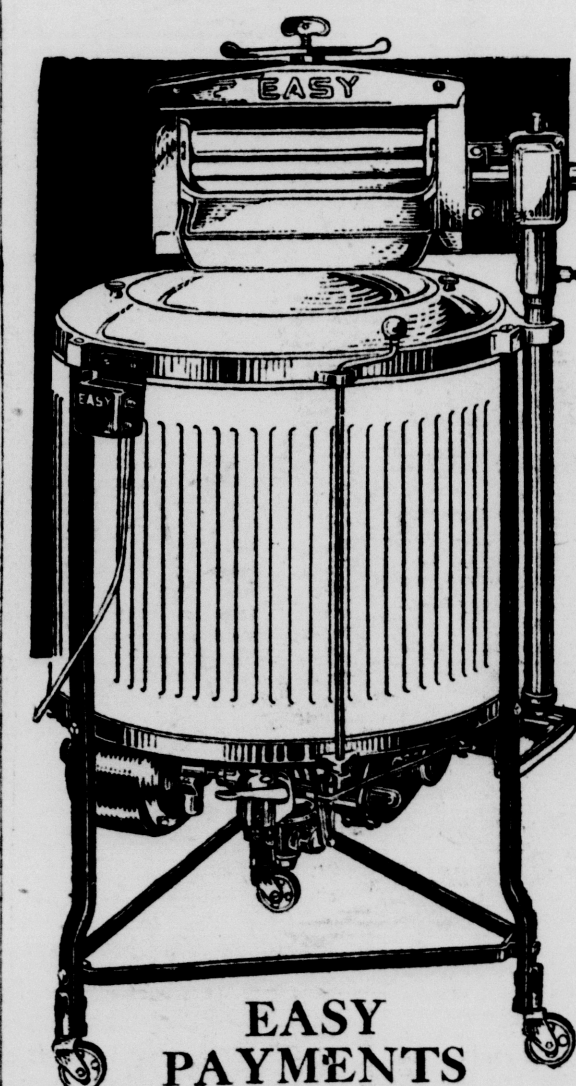

4. Tub has double walls—outer wall Ducoed in snowy white—practically mar-proof—easily wiped clean.

5. Gentle but sure semi-soft roll wringer with quick safety release. Locks in 4 positions.

6. Central one-point oiling system—no hunting for hidden cups.

7. Handy 6-sheet capacity.

8. Savings of $10 to $50—the lowest price by far for a washer with so many EASY features.

Just a small amount down—then low monthly payments—and this new EASY is yours without waiting.

Time-proved vacuum principle

This is the method most nearly like the action of human hands. Gently forces cleansing suds back and forth—through and through—your clothes, washing dirt OUT, not merely OFF. Try it and be convinced!

The boy that Santa forgot

IF THE actual pictures of those unfortunate little ones that Santa forgot could really be published in this paper it fill the entire edition—it would do more—it would touch hearts of thousands of the right-minded with pity and remorse.

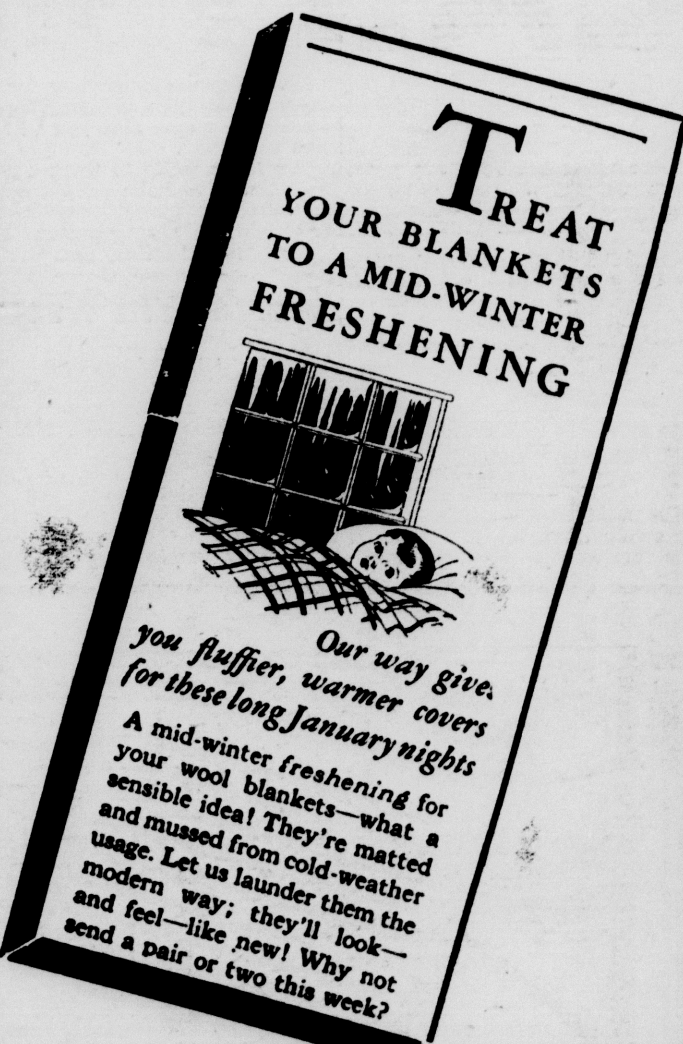

But Santa didn't really forget—he never does. He simply was not provided because that multitude of last-minute shoppers were too busy with their own—too late to give a thought to all else. Many, of they had completed their own shopping early enough, would have had time to think "who else can I make happy now?" And the Santa within their own hearts would have shown them his unchecked list.

Shop Early For Auto Tags

Jumping from reports made by Deputy Commissioner J. S. Hilbert and the Columbiana County Motor club, showing that less than 600 plates have been issued during the first week, most of East Liverpool's 6,000 motorists do not intend to heed the "early shopping" admonition in the distribution of 1930 automobile license tags.

Although the state law does not permit the use of the maroon and white tags until December 21, wise motorists will not defer filing applications at the license bureau. Past experiences prove that discomfort and fatigue of waiting in long lines in chilly weather are the penalties that are exacted in the last-minute rush.

And, too, motorists who delay compliance with the law until the closing days of the month may be among those who will be denied the privilege of operating their cars on New Year's day, for the state motor vehicle license bureau has warned that no time extension will be allowed on the use of 1929 plates. Persons who attempt to drive cars which do not carry the new licenses after December 31 will be arrested, under instructions issued to police chiefs and sheriffs.

There is as much argument in favor of early applications for automobile license as in stressing the advantage of early shopping for Christmas needs. And the man or woman who postpones the license purchase or the Yule present quest until the eleventh hour is contributing to a situation that causes nervousness.

A hint to the wise should be sufficient. Shop early for 1930 automobile licensees.

Keeping Law Alive

Investigation of litigation in Ohio, to last over a period of years, will be made by the Institute of Law of the Johns Hopkins university. Improvement of the administration of justice and the discovery and analysis of actual effects of laws upon human beings are the purposes of the study.

Dr. Hessel E. Yntema and Dr. Leon C. Marshall, of the Institute of Law, Judge Carrington T. Marshall, chief justice of Ohio, and John A. Elden of the Ohio State Bar association will constitute the committee in charge of carrying out the investigation program. Cooperation is assured because of the high repute of the Johns Hopkins university and the recognition by members of the legal profession in the state of need for a thorough study of this nature.

The research projects recommended for the current year include an analysis of the civil judgments of the common pleas courts, courts of appeals and the supreme court. Later, an analysis of divorce cases and criminal prosecution will be made and an investigation of municipal court cases will be started. In addition, a study will be made of the whole method of making and assembling judicial statistics and a plan will be formulated for a comprehensive study of the machinery of justice. Actual work will be started at an early date.

A comprehensive study of this nature can only be successful in the measure that it is aided by those who are the sources of information. Effects are significant only when seen in the light of the conditions which brought them to pass and those conditions can be most accurately classified by the cooperation of those most familiar with them.

Law, to be effective, must be kept alive. There must be a ready response to changing conditions. New procedures must be evolved to meet new attitudes. Old procedures must be discarded as they become inadequate. This can be accomplished most effectively by an outside organization, which has as its purpose a dispassionate analysis, and whose attitude is one of helpfulness to be body in which it is conducting its investigation.

No spectacular changes will result from an investigation of this kind. Its greatest value is the familiarity with the relation of cause and effect that it will encourage in legal circles.

Snowdrift Admonitions

Jack Frost has invaded the East Liverpool district with his multitude of sharp pains and winter sports and has brought about a new mode of life for the next few months. Outdoor sports are denied most city dwellers, and indoor life, with hazards peculiar to itself, is the mode. The National Safety Council has issued a few warnings which we shall paraphrase and supplement.

Don't pile the furnace full of fuel and leave the draft wide open, unless the home and its contents carry fire insurance equal to its subjective value. Winter is a bad times for fires.

The water pan in the furnace is not an ornament; it should be kept filled and supplemented with other pans of water in the living rooms. The lining of the nose and throat must be kept moist to prevent infection.

The hand rail on the steps that lead from the porches to the ground is important on icy mornings. Depend upon it, if there be one; if not, tread prayerfully.

You can avoid damage suits and gain some healthy exercise by application of a shovel or a broom to the sidewalk in front of your home.

Refreshing sleep is assured by plenty of fresh air and a corresponding amount of warm covers.

When you are in the garage, the doors should be open, unless the automobile is absent. A running engine and no air circulation mean the long sleep, quite painless, but just as effective.

Winter should be met with preparation. Intelligence can make it as enjoyable as summer and spring, rather than the dull season that come between them.

HASKIN LETTER DAILY

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 7.—A story of absorbing interest to American farmers is furnished in a fresh chapter of the department of agriculture's Agricultural Survey of Europe which is devoted to Switzerland. The chapter on Switzerland, prepared by Asher Hobson of the bureau of agricultural economics, is of peculiar interest because of the sharp contrasts drawn between Swiss and American agriculturalists. Chief among these contrasts stand one material factor and one intangible factor. The material factor is that the Swiss farmer, laboring under great natural difficulties, makes far less profit than the American farmer. The intangible contrast is furnished by the fact that the Swiss farmer is richly content with his lot while the American constantly is chafing against his.

To begin with, a very large part of Switzerland consists of land so rugged and mountainous that the average American farmer would not even attempt to cultivate it. It must be remembered that Switzerland is practically entirely covered by the Alps. The farmer must farm the sides of these soaring peaks as high up as he can get every possible pound of produce out of the narrow valleys.

To be sure, the farmers in the land of William Tell have the satisfaction of working in an environment which travelers cross the world to see but that does not help them much in wrestling a living from the soil. That, or something else, however, does give the Swiss farmer what Mr. Hobson calls a certain "landedness" which attaches him to his meagre acres and inspires him to take full advantage of every square foot of tillable land.

Switzerland is somewhat larger than Maryland and about two-thirds the size of West Virginia. It has a population of 3,389,000.

It is customary to think of Switzerland primarily as a country of scenery and if one thinks of the occupation of the people at all—aside from the Alpine guides—as a pastoral country. Yet only 23 per cent of the population is engaged in agriculture. Compare this with the nearly 50 per cent engaged in agriculture in the industrialized United States. Forty-seven per cent of the Swiss people is engaged in manufacturing, a far greater proportion than in the United States. Twelve per cent is engaged in trade.

Many of the Swiss farms are located on hillsides so precipitous that they must be terraced; not merely with earth but with masonry retaining walls which require much time and labor to construct and maintain. This means that fields are in the form of long strips some no wider than a roadway. Mr. Hobson took note of one five-acre farm which was divided into 56 such terraced strips. The effort required in climbing from one of these terraces to another can well be imagined and compared with that required to work the broad, level acres of American farms.

But there is another difficulty which intensifies this one. Farms remain in the possession of the same families for generations but parcels are divided up among heirs. Also some sales of small parcels are made. This has the effect of scattering the fields belonging to one farmer over considerable territory. His land is rarely contiguous. Terrace fields belonging to a single farmer, the whole constituting his farm, may be one, two and three miles apart and over difficult country. He must be a mountain climber and a stout walker to get from field to field. One farm was found which had 129 separate and widely separated fields. The average for all Switzerland is 143 separated fields to a farm.

In recent years the Swiss government has made an effort to readjust this matter. A law of 1912, enacted with the cooperation of the Peasants' Union, provides that when two-thirds of the owners occupying at least one-half of the land in any given district desire to consolidate their farms, consolidation becomes compulsory on the remainder in the district. The consolidation process consists of the exchanging of field for field with such readjustments of value as are necessary, until a farmer has the aggregate of his total scattered acreage consolidated contiguously about his homestead. Complete consolidation is rarely possible, partly on account of topographical conditions, but it usually results in reducing the number of separated portions to two or three per farm.

Questions and Answers.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Q. How many hours a day is the average radio set in use? J. C.

A. It is estimated that the average radio set is used from two to eight hours a day, with four hours as a fair average.

Q. How many bank chains are there in the United States? E. K.

A. Bank chains in the United States number 273, with 1,850 banks in 39 states.

Q. Have thirty-one men been President of the United States? P. T.

A. Herbert Hoover is the thirty first President, but only thirty men have been president. Grover Cleveland had two terms which were not consecutive. He was the twenty-second president and also the twenty-fourth.

Q. Where do hornets get the paper out of which they build their nests? E. J. B.

A. The paper out of which hornets build their nests is made of chewed up bits of weathered wood gathered from old fences and buildings. As one author describes it "Round the swamp edges of ponds or in wet ditches wasps and hornets may be seen gathering tough herbaceous filaments which felt up into a texture stronger and better able to resist the wind and rain than a paper made of wood scrappings."

Q. What is a cutty sark? H. E. K.

A. Cutty is Scotch and North English for our word short, and sark is a Scotch and English dialectal word for shirt.

Q. Is there such a thing as a brick made of glass? G. D.

A. Glass bricks made in France will be used in the construction of the seven top floors of the Palais de France on Broadway.

Ritzzy Rosalie

All my life I've heard about California bungalows. Now I know why. Every shop I go into has some ducky new grill for the house and I want to get them all. I've taken sheer delight in the organdie drawer linings I've seen. They cover the bottom of the drawer and leave a generous flap to turn back over your lingerie or what-nots, keeping them free from dust. I wasn't able to resist some beverage napkins that I found cut in the shapes of various fruits. They were too tempting.

Every facility is given us today to promote cleanliness and good health. You cannot have health and cleanliness, the one without the other. They are twins. Never before has the world had so many aids to cleanliness. There are private and public baths, spick and span offices, department stores and factories in which to work. There is every contrivance to make the home clean and livable.

Given fresh air and sunlight, clean hands and good health you cannot help but radiate the right sort of personality. These are worth much more than dollars and cents. They give security in the work you have to do, in the friends you make and the home that may be yours. Aren't these all worth while?

Answers to Health Queries.
 W. F. S. Q.—What do you advise me to do for my hair, which is very thin?
 A.—I would advise frequent shampooing with a good pure soap and warm water and the use of a stimulating ointment. For particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

IRVING S. Q.—What causes my jaw to make a clicking sound every time I open it? I have noticed this for the past three years.
 A.—This may be due to faulty position and faulty movement of the lower jaw. Sometimes it is due to loss or disuse of the back teeth or the presence of faulty constructed bridges, crowns or fillings, which cause the jaw to be thrown forward too far.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Almost every day a new high-toned treatise written by a professional pomp offers a solution to "What is the matter with the theater?" Most of them strike me as mere academic fantasies. One guess is as good as another.

So mine is the public is fed up with the theater's sameness. The big appeal of the talkie was because it offered something different—even though mechanical. To illustrate the thesis it will be necessary lightly to whang several talented friends.

But here goes! The most successful stars on the stage have been doing exactly the same thing year after year. It was the same repetitious dry rot that shrunk a huge chain of vaudeville theaters from coast to coast to less than a slim handful.

Edie Cantor, par example, is an agile comedian with a trigger mind. He has originally, but season after season prances from one side of the stage to the other with a burst of quick landscapes. Producers, it is only fair to say, are entirely to blame, and not the players.

Al Jolson is still leaning across the footlights, caressing an off-beat woman, to an imaginary mammy. The talkies changed his pace a little, but not much. Helen Morgan has been dropping weary eyelids on a piano top in a fit of the miseries ever since she burst forth on Broadway.

Van & Schenck have never changed their routine. Florence Nash is always the wicked lady in the Broadway shake-down, as is Alice Brady. They have never permitted Miss Claire to forget her gold-digging role. Otis Skinner continues swashbuckling throatily and Leon Errol still manipulates his gutta-percha leg.

Marilyn Miller and Mary Eaton with prop smiles are the same Cinderellas from year to year. Ray Dooley schreeches, waves her arms and demands a milk bottle. And so it goes. History shows the enduring actors and actresses have shown versatility. Mrs. Fiske, Mansfield and Sothern are examples.

George M. Cohan, being his own producer, has been able to change his pace and show what a talented performer can do. He has been a hooper, a jumping jack comedian, a singer and a purveyor of gripping dramatic roles. Many others could do likewise to the profit of themselves, the public and the producers, if given the chance.

In a scene between two gold diggers in a current play one sneers at a hard boiled sister on the verge of "going straight." "Go ahead, toss your rouge out the window. But if you are picking out a church, you better hurry. They are already packing them in." For some reason, it receives a big laugh.

But there is more to the churchly reference than airy perfillage. A roving reporter recently found on a Sunday morning that six churches in the Tenderloin radius of Broadway did not have an empty seat. In two, the overflows were seated in extra camp chairs.

The wounded gangster is usually pictured as refusing a hypodermic and passing out with a tight-lipped silence. But hospital doctors say the reticence is inspired solely by fear of what will happen if the patient recovers. Thus the extravagantly stressed gangland code is merely cowardice.

The stage come-back of Wilton Lackaye this season was one of the theatrical pleasures. He was ported after his democratic return from his permanent invalidism, but he made his debut with Mrs. Fiske, and although he appears only in one act he acquires himself with his usual finish.

"Cleanliness is next to Godliness," is an old saying that has more truth than fiction in it. With all their bad habits, even the ancients realized the value of cleanliness. Never has the world had greater facilities to aid in this necessary habit of cleanliness than it has today.

I saw the other day the heading to a newspaper article. It read, "Landing a Job with Soap and Water." The story went on to tell how a busy employment expert read the character of applicants for positions from their appearance. He complained particularly of untidiness among some of the girls seeking gainful positions.

What are the standards set up by the employer today? Without exception we might say that preference is given to the individual who is well-groomed, tidy, clean! Ability? Yes, certainly that is very necessary, but invariably the appearance is a pretty good test of character and of ability.

One employer said: "In selecting prospective employees, we of course aim to take only those who appear to be naturally clean and neat. Untidiness in dress and personal appearance generally denotes a person careless and slipshod in other respects. The neater employees in the office and factory are the more efficient."

The girl whose clothes are neat, not necessarily expensive, and whose face is made clean before make-up is applied has a good chance to win. Well arranged and shining hair tells of immaculate care. This will be noted, as well as the fact that she is clean and well-kept. A person of this description will receive notice wherever she is.

The young man whose movement denotes ability and keenness of mind almost unflinching presents a good appearance as to dress and cleanliness. He is the person, too, who gets the most out of life at every turn.

The Theaters

Gary Cooper Has "Virginian" Role

He sang the mere fragment of a song in "Wolf Song"—but his talking voice was never heard by picture audiences before, until Paramount gave him the title role in the all-talking outdoors classic, "The Virginian," which comes to the American theater Monday.

His name is Gary Cooper, and he is probably the best screen type that could be found anywhere in the ranks of film actors for the part of the lean, lanky cow-puncher hero of this famous play from the novel of the same name by Owen Wister.

Cooper talks with a slow, mellow drawl in the picture. His mannerisms are those of the range-rider. His acting is real and convincing. He actually lived as a range rider before he went to Hollywood to gain renown in pictures.

"The Virginian" was "shot" and "miked" in the picturesque cattle-range country of Sonora county, California.

Alan Hale, which will be on view at the State theater Monday and Tuesday.

The songs, music and lyrics all of which were written by that well-known team, Walter O'Keefe and Bobby Dolan, are "Red Hot Rhythm," "At Last I'm in Love," "Out of the Past," "When You're a Part of Me," "My Idea of Heaven," and "The Night That Elmer Died."

The last named, a mirth-ballad of unequalled calibre, is sung by Ika Chase, stage and screen comedienne, while the remainder are sung by either Walter O'Keefe or Kathryn Crawford. This little musical comedy and screen favorite is particularly fetching in "My Idea of Heaven," a song and dance number in which she is supported by a bevy of fifty beautiful chorus girls.

"Red Hot Rhythm" is an original story by Leo McCarey, who also directed, and William Conselman, who supervised its production.

Thrilling Story of Romance of Modern Girl

"I'm going up to the High Sierras for a few days—a week, maybe ten days," Jack Beamer told Nancy one warm night in June.

They were dining in a courtyard tearoom they had found on the highway. It was dark and quiet, and rambling. A forest of Japanese umbrellas, potted bamboo and unexpected and meaningless archways made it safe for nervous couples who had no wish to meet friends. Jack and Nancy came there often, so often that they had got quite used to the warm salads and cold coffee, and hardly minded any more. There are so few places where you're not in constant terror of bumping into someone you know. Not that Nancy cared. She had grown careless and indifferent of public opinion in the last few months. "Suppose someone does see us?" she demanded listlessly. But Jack suddenly cared very much. "It might make a great deal of difference," he told her seriously. "Until I get this divorce settled, I've got to be careful. You don't realize how serious this is!"

"Maybe not," she smiled, patting his arm reassuringly. "But there's no use getting excited about it, because I've had all the seriousness I want in this life. From now on I'm just frivolous. Gold-digger Nancy!"

"I wish you wouldn't talk like that. It doesn't suit you," he said irritably, and Nancy laughed again, too loudly.

The strain was telling on them both, on Nancy more than him, he thought sometimes. She was becoming so reckless, so bitter. Losing her looks too. Not permanently of course. Her slim figure was as lovely, her perfect profile as flawless, her flyaway hair as soft and lustrous. But the bloom, the radiance that had attracted him at first, was gone. In its place was a hard brilliance that almost frightened him sometimes. . . . God save him from a clever woman. . . . and she used too much lipstick. It rubbed off unpleasantly when he kissed her. Yes, things couldn't go on like this much longer. The High Sierras would solve the problem once and forever, and to everyone's complete satisfaction, even Anita's. . . .

"Why the High Sierras?" she asked after a long pause. She'd have to get over that silly habit of wincing every time she heard the name, so she might as well speak of it. Besides there was no reason why Jack shouldn't go if he wanted to, it was nothing to her. She had put all that out of her life.

"Anita. . . Anita wishes it."

"Anita!"

Jack wriggled uncomfortably in the spindle tearoom chair. "Most fellows would lie out of it, but I'm going to tell you the truth," he said slowly. "That's how much I care about you, baby, and count on you to understand."

"Well, I'm certainly not jealous!" Nancy smiled, but a sudden fear touched her, leaving her hands cold and clammy. She had never doubted him, never thought of his going back to his wife. She felt her world crashing, the very earth have been retained in the film production and to these have been added mobility and magnitude which the stage, even under the direction of a Ziegfeld, could not hope to attain.

Against the most lavish sets yet seen on the screen is played and sung the magnificent drama of the Mexican borderland by Bebe Daniels, John Boles and a supporting cast of hundreds. Mighty vocal choruses, inspiring dance routines and beauty assemblies show for the first time the endless possibilities of the speaking screen.

In the cast are Robert Woolsey and Bert Wheeler, crack comedians of the original show; Don Alvarado, popular screen player; Dorothy Lee, flapper sensation of "Syncopation;" Helen Kaiser, Follies beauty; Georges Renevant, Tiny Sanford, Sam Nelson and Eva Rosita. More than a hundred glorious girls, the Pietro Cimini grand chorus of eighty male voices and the famed Radio Pictures symphony orchestra are among other features.

dropping out from under her feet. . . . "Do you mean you're going back?" she finished, as gamely as she could.

"Back? To Anita! Oh my no. Wait! You don't understand. It's just that I. . . well, it's this way. Nancy, I'm a quixotic fool, but the plain truth is that the woman is dying—"

"Dying! She's been dying for the last ten years. Ever since I first heard of her!"

"Yes, I know, but this time she is. Her doctor took me aside. Heart. Any minute—"

Nancy reached for a cigarette and lit it clumsily. "Then she'd better stay out of the mountains."

"Exactly what I told her. I talked till I was black in the face. Snelling, the specialist, told her the same thing, but she set on it, and as he told me afterward, it seems to be a sort of dying wish."

and so if you look at it that way, letting her have it at the last and all that, why I'm willing to go along, and she's agreed that if I'll take the trip with her she'll go right on to Reno and get the divorce. . . . so that in September. . . . His hand found hers, he pressed it reassuringly. Then he reached for his handkerchief and mopped his perspiring forehead. "In September we'll be married, and no more eating at this speak-easy."

"What's the matter, Nancy, aren't you well?" May Belle Craig, now May Belle Neal, and not a bit more diplomatic, shrieked at her across the table at a bridge tea.

"Perfectly. Don't I look it?" Nancy demanded, conscious of the eyes of the other two girls upon her too.

"No you don't. You look off your oats. I suppose with so much sickness in the house, and Louise getting married in such a hurry you've had your hands full. That's what I told mamma."

"Yes, we haven't got our breath yet. . . . did you bid two diamonds partner?"

"That was the most romantic affair. . . . My dear, I mean it was the most exciting thing the way he turned out to be the Tully boy. And I always said that he had the most wonderful. . . . I pass. . . ."

"Three spades!" Nancy murmured automatically. Now that they had started on Mat Tully again, they'd let her alone. . . . Her mind went back to her own troubles. . . . she must see Mr. Hess, the attorney, in the morning. . . . Maybe it would be better to brazen things out and go up to Reno. . . . there was money enough left. . . .

She heard May Belle's shrill treble. . . . caught Jack Beamer's name. . . . "Oh I beg your pardon. Did you speak to me, May Belle?"

"I certainly did. I just heard the grandest gossip. About Jack Beamer—"

Nancy's eyes were glued on the cards in her hand. She fixed her lips in a set smile. Then everybody knew about the High Sierras. . . . trust May Belle's mother for making the most of that. . . .

But May Belle, freckle-faced aglow with news, had something much better than that to tell. "You'll get a great kick out of this. . . . You know I've started riding lessons with Gil's mother. Of course I haven't a mount of my own yet, but she said if I liked it, she'd. . . . but you don't want to hear about that. The old girl's not half bad really, for a mother-in-law. But what do you think? We were getting our horses and the English groom (positively the best looking thing) said something about polo, and I said I knew Jack, and he said 'That bouncer!' and I just to see what he'd say, I said at least he was a great horseman, and. . . . Nancy, are you listening? You ought to, after the affair you had with him up the river last summer. You'll just die at this! He said well he ought to know something about horses because he used to be a groom in Wickham or Cheshire or one of those funny English names, and he said he came over here without anything but brass—you know how the British talk—and he married Anita Chilton, and made her think he came from a grand family, when of course he didn't. His father kept a fried fish shop—don't you love it? Fried fish!—Nancy Hollenbeck have you lost your sense of humor? My dear, you aren't a cry? Why I never thought—"

PROGRAM FOR SUNDAY CONCERT OF CIVIC MUSIC UNIT ANNOUNCED

MISS ETHEL LEGINSKA and her 50-piece Boston Women's Symphony orchestra will appear at the Ceramic theater at 9:15 o'clock Sunday night in the first of the Civic Music association concerts. The orchestra will come to East Liverpool from Youngstown where it will be heard in a concert in the Rayen-Wood high school auditorium Sunday afternoon.

Seat reservations opened at the theater box office yesterday. The orchestra will be assisted by Miss Lucile Oliver, piano soloist, and Miss Irma Seydel, violin soloist.

The program follows:
Overture to "The Mastersingers of Nuremberg" (Wagner).
Symphony No. 8, B Minor (Unfinished) (Schubert).
Allegro Moderato.
Andante con moto.
Piano or Violin Concerto to be announced.
Two Nursery Rhymes for Orchestra (Leginska).
Little Boy Blue.
Old King Cole.
Symphonic poem, "Les Preludes" (Liszt).

Noble Grand Dinner Tuesday.
The Past Noble Grand Association of Ceramic Rebekah lodge will hold a 6 o'clock dinner Tuesday night in the Odd Fellows' temple, Sixth street, instead of at the home of Mrs. Chester Brant as previously announced.

C. D. A. Coverdill Party Monday.
Catholic Daughters of America will entertain with a 6 o'clock coverdill dinner in the Knights of Columbus hall, Ingram building, Monday night. Following the dinner officers will be installed. Cards will be the diversion of the social period.

Mrs. Robert Stewart Hostess.
Mrs. Robert Stewart, near Chester, was hostess Wednesday to members of the El Simplex club. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Oscar Evans. Covers were arranged for 12.

Club Plans Yule Party.
Fernleaf club members met last night in the home of Mrs. Lee Fawcett, Elm street, when music and games followed the business session. A guessing contest was won by Mesdames Homer Todd, Dwight Moorhead, and John Lynch.

Dainty Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Elmer Smith and Mrs. O. N. Givens.
Mrs. John Lurch of Beaver Falls, Pa., was a guest. On December 20, gifts will be exchanged in the home of Mrs. O. N. Givens, Fifteenth street, Wellsville.

Friendly Society Meet Postponed.
The G. group of the Girls' Friendly society of St. Stephen's Episcopal church has indefinitely postponed its meeting scheduled for Tuesday night, because of the death of the president, Miss Edna Betts.

Lodge Holds Eucher Party.
Ceramic Circle No. 446, Protected Home Circle, entertained with the fourth of a series of eucher parties last night in the G. A. R. hall, E. Fought street. Five tables were in play. Honors were awarded Mesdames Jennie Wright and Sadie Hoyt and Charles Hoyt and Pearl Barringer.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lulu Blazer and her committee. On December 20, when a Christmas party will be held, a chicken and waffle dinner will be served.

An Open Letter to All Who Received Christmas Savings Fund Checks

On Monday, or within the past few days, a real thrill came your way. If you were one of the thousands who have been putting aside weekly savings into a Christmas Savings Fund, you received a check for a lump sum of sufficient size to help Santa Claus bring Christmas cheer to your home.

We congratulate you on the thought that prompted you to start last year to "Save for This Christmas." The Check which you received during the past few days from some one of the banks will bring you happiness.

You deserve it.

No doubt, there was many a time when even though the amount was small that you had to put away, you had a hard time meeting the issue.

But you did it. You showed that small obstacles meant nothing to you—that you could override them. You sowed seeds early in the year—and now you are reaping the harvest by receiving a nice Christmas Savings Check.

The next big question is—"What are you going to do with your Christmas money?" You used good judgment in saving it. May we suggest to you that you use just as good judgment in spending it. Of course, it is your money—yours to do with as you like—but would it not be wonderful if you could buy with it (or part of it) a gift that would bring pleasure, not only to yourself, but to all of your family—a gift that would last, not only during the Christmas Season, but for many years to come—a gift that would never grow tiresome nor old? That gift is a radio, one of our Majestic Radios whose colorful tones, whose unlimited powers to bring in any sort of program that fits your mood, will thrill you and others at Christmas time and throughout long winter nights to come.

In fact, winter and summer, it would be a continuous source of pleasure, offering an endless variety of entertainment and instruction.

Come in today, join our Christmas Club, and start owning a Majestic Radio, our easy way. You will also be given a handsome Christmas gift with which you will be delighted.

We will deliver your set when you say, you pay a small amount down and a little out of each pay, thus assuring you that you will have your set, in your own home, all ready to play, on Christmas Eve, or Christmas Morning, to surprise the whole family, and which will make a gift that you can always be proud of.

May we emphasize the fact that all you need is a very small down payment, to put this wonderful gift in your home.

Remember, you have just a few more days to join our club.

BLEASE DEFIES COURT ORDER

Southern Senator Ignores Grand Jury Subpoena.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS.)—Senator Cole L. Blease (D) South Carolina, was holding his ground today while Justice Peyton Gordon, district supreme court, was deciding whether contempt proceedings should be placed against him.

Blease is ignoring a subpoena to appear before the grand jury as a witness in a new inquiry concerning the mysterious death, a few years ago, of Detective Arthur Scrivener. Justice Gordon is the jurist who sentenced three local reporters to jail for refusing to divulge confidential information to the jury. Their 45 day term with a few days off for good conduct, ends Wednesday.

Blease and Senator Heflin (D) Alabama, have declared in senate speeches they have heard the name of Scrivener's murderer and criticized the police department's handling of the case. Heflin was

SCHOOLS PLAN TEST APRIL 26

County Commercial Pupils to Visit Midland.

MIDLAND, Pa., Dec. 7.—Commercial instructors of Beaver county have accepted the invitation from the Lincoln high school to conduct the annual tests in the Steel City on Saturday, April 26.

The county tests, which will consist of typewriting, calculating, shorthand writing and bookkeeping, will have no bearing on the state examinations.

Students here complete each month in examinations furnished by typewriter manufacturers and receive certificates and pins for the best averages.

Earl E. Bennett, Ambridge high school, is president of the Beaver County Commercial Instructors. Miss Jean Hill and Homer Williams, both members of the Beaver Falls faculty, are the secretary and treasurer, respectively.

PUPILS JOIN SAFETY DRIVE

Program Outlined For Steel City Schools.

MIDLAND, Pa., Dec. 7.—Extensive safety program, which will include speakers and motion pictures in the Midland grade schools has been outlined by Miss Madeline Ficus, home room instructor of the 10B-1 class.

Caution while playing, walking or riding on the streets; fire prevention, general health rules, and safety during vacations will be stressed.

Speakers will address the student assembly each month in the Lincoln high school, while motion pictures depicting safe procedures, will also be shown. Trophies will be awarded for the best safety poems, stories, playlets, slogans and posters.

"Ten Commandments" on safety principles will be distributed.

Students of the 10B-1 class will visit each room in the three grade school buildings and deliver addresses. Children will also be recruited from the grades to take part in a playlet.

Subjects to be discussed each month follow: December, "Safety on the Streets," January, "Fire Prevention," February, "Health," March, "Safety in the Home," April, "Safety in the Streets," May, "Safety in Vacation Sports."

TWO MEN HURT IN AUTO WRECK

MIDLAND, Pa., Dec. 7.—Elmer R. Gifford and Hugh Smith, 705 Midland avenue, are recovering at their home from bruises to the head and face sustained yesterday morning when their automobile skidded on the ice-coated cart-way and went over an embankment in Ambridge.

SENIOR CLASS ENTERTAINS 60

MIDLAND, Pa., Dec. 7.—Sixty persons attended the dance given last night in the Lincoln high school gymnasium under the auspices of the senior class. The orchestra, East Liverpool, O., was in charge of the music. The decorations were arranged to represent an outdoor Christmas scene.

subpoenaed and subsequently ignored, it, too, but Blease was the only one cited to the court.

The South Carolina stated he will not appear before the jury while Heflin declared he might appear later. Blease intimated it would be "useless" pointing to the jury's recent action in throwing out evidence in a similar case.

Blease said he is standing on his senatorial rights. A section of the constitution declares members of congress, except in cases of treason, felony or breach of the peace, are privileged from arrest during sessions of congress, and are immune from outside questioning on speeches they make in congress.

FORMER PARIS SHOPGIRL BRIDE OF INDIAN POTENTATE

AGA KHAN WEDS HUMBLE MAIDEN IN CITY HALL

Climax of Cinderella Story Without Equal In Fiction.

BLONDE SULTANA

Andree Carron Takes Precedence Over Nancy Miller.

By Frederick K. Abbott.

PARIS, Dec. 7.—(INS.)—A Cinderella story without an equal in fiction's most imaginative pages reached its romantic climax at Aix-les-Bains today when Mlle. Andree Josephine Carron, modest, little former shopgirl, gave her heart and hand to prince charming deserving of the name.

The bridegroom who thus agreed to share his worldly possessions, worth the ransom of a dozen kings, with the daughter of a bourgeois merchant of Aix-les-Bains, was his highness Sir Sultan Mahomet Shah Aga Khan, known better throughout the world merely as the Aga Khan, sportsman, multi-millionaire, breeder of thoroughbred horses and prince of gentlemen.

Two months ago, Mlle. Carron, who may now be known as the first sultana in history, was selling sweets in a tiny candy shop in Aix-les-Bains. Today she left the city hall of that little town the wife of one of the most fabulously wealthy men in all the world, spiritual leader of a religion comprising almost as many adherents as Roman Catholicism, and one of the most colorful figures of the twentieth century.

Major Performs Ceremony. The Indian potentate, to whom millions bow as their accepted leader, was wedded to his humble fiancée in the prosaic setting of the seat of Aix-les-Bains' comparatively unimportant municipal government. But the affair was lent some of the éclat befitting the wedding of a multi-millionaire by the presence of half a hundred distinguished invited guests, friends of the Aga Khan, and an army of newspaper men almost twice this number.

The wedding ceremony at Aix lasted only a few minutes. It was performed by Henri Clerc, well-known French playwright, who is the mayor of the town and a close friend of the Aga Khan.

It was held in the shadow of the famous casino where Harry Thurtell once playfully shattered the barroom mirror with revolver shots. Bride 27; Aga Khan 57.

The bride gave her age as 27. The Aga Khan is 57.

By becoming the bride of the most powerful religious head of India, Andree now takes precedence over the former Nancy Miller, of Seattle, wife of the former maharajah of Indore, for her husband, according to Great Britain's protocol, rates an 11-gun salute.

Mlle. Carron bowed to her famous husband's favorite hobby by wearing as her wedding dress a magnificent gown of emerald green and chocolate, the racing colors of the prince, and known on every important race track of continental Europe, Great Britain and the Orient.

Whether or not she is the first bride ever to be married in the racing colors of her husband, Mlle. Carron certainly is the first blonde-haired beauty to be raised to the status of sultana reigning over tens of millions of loyal subjects. And not only will she be treated as a queen in India, but in Paris and London, too, for the Aga Khan is the most popular and probably the most Jewish Indian potentate ever to move in the brilliant society of these two capitals.

SENATE FIGHTS OVER TAX CUT

Yule Present For Income Taxpayer Hits Snag.

By WILLIAM S. NEAL.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS.)—The administration's plan to make a $160,000,000 Christmas present to American income taxpayers in the form of tax reduction faced opposition in the senate today, after the house had enthusiastically endorsed it by an overwhelming vote.

Although Republican and Democratic leaders alike in the senate have pledged their support to the measure, determined minority may attempt to block it by making use of the unlimited debate rules of that body.

The tax reduction resolution was passed by the house after three hours and a half debate on the fourth day of the new session—a record even for the house where the power of leaders and the rules make possible much faster action than in the senate.

Senator Brookhart (R) of Iowa today appeared to be the leader of senate opposition, and he predicted that he would gain much progressive support. Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska, a power among the progressives, has indicated that he would not oppose it.

PHILIPPINES PARADISE TO CHINA'S POOR

Oriental Seek "Promised Land in 'Hula Hula' Islands.

SMUGGLE WAY IN

Two Reach Haven on One Birth Certificate.

MANILA, P. I.—Smuggling Chinese into the Philippines is an ancient and honorable pastime which has been practiced ever since the United States established its sovereignty here.

Recently, however, a new method of entry was exposed when it was discovered that two Chinese had come in on the same fifth certificate, and they weren't Siamese twins either.

The First Time.

The birth certificate contained the name of Francisco Siodico, the son of a Chinese father and a Filipino mother. As one of the parents was a Filipino, the possessor of the certificate was entitled to make a permanent residence here.

In 1918 the certificate was presented to customs officials and the bearer allowed to enter. A few months later the certificate bobbed up again, in the hands of another Chinaman, and he too was allowed to take up his residence in the promised land of the Philippines.

Someone told the authorities about their mistake a few weeks ago, and following an investigation the attorney general's office declared both men should be deported. On the grounds that they had lived here more than five years, which gave them legal right to remain, they are fighting the deportation order and present indications are that they will remain here.

To the underpaid, underpaid Chinese laborer, the rich tropical lands of the Philippines look like the United States do to the worker in Southern Europe. To keep the Philippines for the Filipino is one of the big problems in local administration.

Restaurant Owner Faces Check Count

John Kouvalis, one of the owners of the Crystal restaurant in East Sixth street, was held under $200 bond by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley today for a hearing next Thursday upon a charge of issuing a questionable check for $31.10. Kouvalis pleaded not guilty.

The restaurant owner was arrested upon information of P. M. Ware, Wellsville, who charged that Kouvalis gave him a check for $31.10 in payment for eggs and other supplies. The check, returned from the bank, was marked "insufficient funds."

Subject Beats Up Mesmerist. Being a mesmerist is not always as pleasant as it seems, according to one of the profession who is nursing bruises inflicted by a subject at Chappellier, France. During the mesmerist's performance at a theater he "put a man to sleep" and ordered him to go at noon the next day to a confectionery store, take a pastry from the counter, go to a cafe and eat the cake. These orders were carried out by the man, but just as he began to eat the cake he woke up. He then turned upon the "professor" and thrashed him.

PLAYWRIGHT DEDICATES STORY TO HEROES OF KITCHEN TRENCH

"Broken Dishes" Eulogizes Uprising of Domiciled Male in Any Home.

NEW YORK.—Some day there may be a memorial shaft to the Unknown Dish Washer, immortalizing those unsung and unremembered domestic soldiers in the kitchen trenches.

With or without this beautiful thought in mind, "Broken Dishes," by Martin Flavin, is dedicated to the man who wears the apron.

I am of the suspicion that there are three or four such kitchen worms for every man-about-town of our broad city highways, and four or five such knights of the dishrag for every wife-beater.

And it is not at all improbable that a statistical survey of the men behind the dishrag would reveal an appalling loss in chinaware. The pieces, it laid bit to bit, might reach from the cradle to the grave and take 700 riveters using both hands 204 days to equal if given a similar amount of dishes to annihilate, if they understood such a word.

PASTORS CLOSE ZONE MEETING

Rev. Dr. Wiley Speaks At Nazarene Services.

Eight conversions marked the concluding session of the preachers annual assembly from the Pittsburgh district at the Nazarene church, St. Clair avenue, last night, when the Rev. Dr. H. Orton Wiley, of Kansas City, editor of the Herald of Holiness, the denomination's publication, gave his final message. He stressed the four relationships of life, the family, the church, the state and the people in which he declared idealism would come with an animation of Christian principles in all of them.

Announcement was made that he would remain in East Liverpool over Sunday and preach both in the morning and the evening when his subjects will be "The Church in Her Perfect Glory" and "The Two Views of Christ" respectively. On Monday he will leave for Canton, where that evening he will preach in the First church while en route to his home in Kansas City, Mo.

The Rev. John Knapp, of Boston, head of Eastern college of that city, left today for Johnstown, Pa., where he will preach tomorrow. He will shortly begin a three-month spiritual campaign in the east when he will be accompanied by Edward Patzsch, East Liverpool singer. The latter sang last evening, as did Mr. and Mrs. Russell Metcalf of Monongahela, Pa., who also will remain in the city for tomorrow's services here.

Singing last night was in charge of the choir, directed by the Rev. Arthur Gould, of New Brighton, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Metcalf also sang at the afternoon service.

"Home Missions" was the theme of an address by the Rev. C. B. Jernigan, of Nashville, Tenn., one of the founders of the Nazarene church, yesterday afternoon. Dr. Knapp spoke also in the morning session upon "Converting Dollar Bills Into Living Epistles," as did Dr. J. H. Sloan, of Akron, former East Liverpool resident, now the pastor of the Akron Church of the Nazarene.

Dr. Warren Jones, the superintendent of the district, announced that 60 ministers of the area had been in attendance at the meeting.

DEATH ROLL

Oliver K. Harcher

Oliver Kenneth, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Omar C. Harcher, Calcutta, died early today of scarlet fever.

Besides his parents, one brother, Lee, and four sisters, Wilma, Betty, Catherine and Fay Harcher, survive.

Funeral services will be held in the home tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be made in Longs Run cemetery.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

By W. S. COUSINS, International News Service Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Sharp advances were recorded at the beginning of trading today in the industrial and utility stocks which led Friday's closing spurt. For the first time in a month concerted buying appeared in the motor stocks, which are due at this time for their annual pre-motor-show rise.

The "Morgan favorites," including Standard Brands, Johns Manville and United Corporation, were turned over at a dizzy pace, but General Electric, which supplied most of yesterday's late fire works, was more subdued. Trading piled up a volume of $45,000 shares in the first half-hour, the ticker trailing about 10 minutes.

With General Electric's stock split-up assured, by the directors' approval, bulls in Wall street were confident that similar action would be taken by the U. S. Steel corporation directors before the end of the year. A stock dividend of 100 per cent was talked of in the financial district, giving two shares of common stock for each share now held. Even at that rate, the total outstanding shares would be under 16,000,000, only 40 per cent as many as General Motors and 60 per cent as large as General Electric.

He became more widely known as a political figure and in 1893 he was appointed by president Grover Cleveland as United States Consul to Bradford, Yorkshire, England, which was then regarded as an important post inasmuch as it was the "wool" center of the world.

He remained in England four years. After he returned to this country, he retired from the public eye and although his political activities never broke into print, he was generally the man behind the Democratic scenes.

WALL STREET CUTS BONUSES

Many Corporations, However, Will be Generous.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(INS.)—Wall Street, in thorough sympathy with President Hoover's admonition that the formula for success is to be found in "work," was today in the throes of a "tightening up" policy that will make itself felt in a no uncertain way within the next few weeks.

These developments are imminent. 1.—Christmas bonuses are to be whittled down but not too drastically.

2.—The personnel of many brokerage houses is to be pruned and inexperienced and inefficient employees cut off the pay rolls.

3.—Many salary increases which automatically go into effect on January 1 will not be made this year. There will be no reduction in wages, however.

The Christmas bonuses will be quite substantial in many instances but they will not be doled out with the recklessness of last year. Boards of directors of many corporations, banks and institutions have been considering the general situation in the last few days. Many are planning to be just as generous as a year ago but others favor a "cut," and some of the bonuses this Christmas will be split in half.

Marines Kill Rioters

In Haiti but both houses had adjourned. The message will be read in the house today. The senate does not meet again until Monday.

Reinforcements Embark.

The message is believed to inform congress that the president will appoint at once the special commissioner he referred to in his annual message, and to advise the situation demanded marine reinforcements. There are 700 marines on duty in Haiti now.

The marines left Quantico at 9:35 o'clock last night on the Washington-Norfolk boat and arrived at the Virginia Port at 7 a. m. today. They will embark on the transport Wright during the day.

Most of the marines in the detachment recently returned from duty in China and Nicaragua. Eighteen machine guns, radio equipment and large quantities of guns and ammunition were loaded on the boat.

Mr. Hoover's decision to act quickly came after Brigadier General John H. Russell, marine commandant and American high commissioner in Haiti, reported the strike was threatening to spread throughout the country.

Although strikes had been going on intermittently since October 31, it was the strike of the customs house employees at Port Au Prince Wednesday when two American officials were slightly injured that the seriousness of the situation was realized. This strike spread to the docks at Aux Cayes on Thursday and severe rioting occurred.

Russell cabled rioting would spread to other ports. Previously the original student teacher strike spread throughout the government departments, reached the customs house and the financial office December 4. Office furniture in the customs office was wrecked by the angered natives.

UNCLE SAM'S BUSINESS HITS $1,865,000,000

Quarterly Financing Turnover Record Sum.

TAX TOTAL HIGH

Plan Retirement of $700,000,000 in Certificates.

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS.)—Uncle Sam will have a cash and paper business December 15 of approximately $1,865,000,000, one of the largest quarterly financing period turnovers in recent years.

Treasury experts today estimated income and corporation tax collections for the final payment of the year would total from $510,000,000 to $530,000,000 about $100,000,000 greater than last December.

Other principal transactions will include retirement of $700,000,000 in treasury certificates, issue of $325,000,000 in certificates and $100,000,000 in treasury bills, a payment of $97,000,000 interest on the public debt, receipts of the same amount from foreign powers on their war debts, and about $21,000,000 daily receipts and expenditures.

Treasury Bill Issue Dec. 10.

In announcing the December financing, totaling $425,000,000 Secretary Mellon said that details of the treasury bill issue would be made public Dec. 10. This will mark the first of bills, authorized at the last regular session of congress. They will be sold on a discount basis to the highest bidder.

The last month of the first half of the new fiscal year started off with the government $213,155,000 "in the hole," compared to a deficit of $43,292,000 the same time last year.

Receipts amounted to $1,348,562,000, an increase of $119,000,000 over the same period last year, while ordinary expenditures were $1,316,930,000, an increase of $23,000,000. Owing to smaller operations in the sinking fund total expenditures of $1,561,718,000 this year were considerably under 1928.

All Receipts Heavier

All important items of government receipts were heavier. Income and corporation taxes accounted for $679,517,000, a gain of about $90,000,000, which will push the total for the complete half-year to well over $1,160,000,000. Customs receipts were $267,494,000, an increase of $7,000,000, and miscellaneous internal revenue $273,255,000, a gain of $15,000,000. Tobacco taxes continued to show material gains, more than offsetting some losses in other miscellaneous collections.

Operation of the government departments and bureaus cost $934,719,000, a gain of over $50,000,000. Interest costs were lighter and there was a big decline in the refund of taxes.

Leetonia

Leslie Morris of the Burick and Morris pharmacy has accepted a position as traveling salesman for the Warren-Tweed Drug Co., of Columbus.

Ewing Holloway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holloway, west of town, was taken to the Salem hospital last week suffering from blood poisoning in one of his legs, the result of a football injury to his knee. His condition is fair. Holloway is a senior in Leetonia high and a member of the football team.

At an adjourned meeting of the village council on Tuesday evening an ordinance was passed increasing the salary of the marshal to $155 a month.

Mrs. Roy Berger entertained the Thursday Afternoon Bridge club on Friday afternoon at her home on High street. Mrs. Felix Usis was winner of high score. Miss Jessie Bell Cleveland, who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Erwood Slater, was a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. William Falls, north of town, celebrated jointly Thanksgiving day and their thirty fifth wedding anniversary.

Ray Whinnery of Salem, principal of Leetonia high, who has been off duty for five weeks because of illness, has sufficiently recovered to resume his duties.

Mrs. Michael Sullivan, Ridge St., entertained at a card party Friday evening in honor of Mrs. O. B. Sweeney, who left on Monday to make her home in Youngstown. Seven tables were in play. Mrs. James Blattman was winner of high score and Mrs. Paul Hanahan low.

The Women's Bible Study class of the Presbyterian church will be entertained next Wednesday evening by Mrs. J. E. Orr at her home on Park street.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold a bake sale on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 7, at Hasbrouck's drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony O'Toole and son, and Mr. Thomas O'Toole, of Cleveland, were Friday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Wren.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Longbottom of Washingtonville and Mrs. J. E. Landfried, daughter, Ruth and Miss Frieda Spangler of Greenford, were recent guests in the home of Mrs. Jane Smith.

Robert Cushing and son Robert, who are employed in Claysville, Pa., were weekend guests at their home here.

WRITES REBUKE

Maxm Litvinoff, acting commissar of foreign affairs of the Soviet government, who handed his country's return to the United States to their war debts, and about $21,000,000 daily receipts and expenditures.

Communion Service In Oakland Church

The Rev. HURLEY GETS CABINET POST

Oklahoman Nominated for Secretary Of War.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS.)

The nomination of Assistant Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, of Tulsa, Okla., to be secretary of war to succeed the late James W. Good, is expected to be confirmed by the senate next week without opposition.

President Hoover sent the name of the soldier, lawyer, executive, to the senate late yesterday. In making the announcement he called attention to Hurley's fine war record and said it gave effect to the wish of the southern states for a representative in the cabinet.

Hurley was a practicing lawyer in Tulsa prior to his appointment as assistant secretary March 12, last, being attorney for the Choctaw Indian tribe. During the war he saw service in France and participated in three major engagements. He was decorated twice once with the medal of honor for his work as judge advocate with the first army and again the silver star citation for gallantry in action.

He is a member of President Hoover's "medicine ball cabinet" and has been attending the cabinet sessions since he became acting secretary.

Rogers Will Hear Rupert Beetham

Rupert Beetham, of Columbus, state prohibition commissioner, will give an address at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the Rogers Methodist Episcopal church, under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Truck Kills Ohioan.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 7.—(INS.)—Michael L. Levison, 80, is dead here today, succumbing to injuries which he received when he stepped against the side of a passing truck that was said to have been driven by Salvatore Morello.

An office building to cost between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 will be built in Winnipeg, Canada.

Public subscriptions totaling $8,250 were raised to enable needy V. C.'s to attend the reunion dinner in London over which the Prince of Wales presided recently.

His Voice Charms Screen Fans

JOHN BOLES in 'RIO RITA'

"The Desert Song" gave Boles his first great opportunity in sound films and his singing received world-wide acclaim. On the strength of this first achievement, Radio Pictures cast him for the role of the ranger captain opposite Bebe Daniels in the film version of the Zigfeld success.

In "Rio Rita" Boles sings the title song, "If You're in Love You Waltz," "Following the Sun Around," and "You're Always in My Arms."

REORGANIZATION OF CAGE LOOP IS PLANNED

Grid Followers Select District, Valley Teams

All-county Eleven Pickers of Former Seasons Have Little to Work With This Year; Competition Dying Out.

With teams going out of the circuit more frequently than ever for football games, the annual Columbiana county gridiron season provides little upon which to build all-county squads as customary in former years. The fact of the matter is, East Liverpool high did not play any county opponents at all this year with the exception of Wellsville in the annual Thanksgiving day game.

Wellsville played four county teams, including the Potters, Lisbon, Salem and Leetonia while Salem met but few of the circuit contenders. Consequently there was hardly enough intra-county engagements to compare merits of the various players.

County championships in football are also becoming historical curiosities. Almost any team which has won a game or two can lay claim to the laurels because there isn't enough competition to justify a race.

However, since the all-things and all-time season is in full swing now, one very courageous grid fan inaugurates an "all district" eleven, selecting players from East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester and Newell.

He gives five Potters places on the squad; one to Chester; three to Wellsville, and two to Newell.

Milby of Chester and Shanks of Wellsville are his choices for ends; McCoy and Dalrymple, East Liverpool, tackles; Laneve, Newell, and Butler, Wellsville, guards; Althar, East Liverpool, center; Chetwin and F. Smith, East Liverpool, Miller, Newell, and Checker, Wellsville, are the backs. The backfield quartet apparently has everything at that. Chetwin has no peer in the district as a line plunger.

NEW STYLE IN GRID FASHIONS

Austin and Vernon Smith, known to their associates as the tough drop brothers, play tackle on the University of North Dakota eleven. This is their third year of varsity competition. Last August they decided to grow beards to help finance their way through college, and have done so by securing testimonials from local drug stores.

Barry, 17-Season Veteran, Is Iron Man of Cage Game

Played Whole Game For Celtics Once With Broken Collar Bone.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 7.—Add Pete Barry, Cleveland Rosenblum forward to your list of iron men.

Almost always, whenever the basketball members of the Original Celtics crash the public prints, it is for some brilliant or spectacular reason. Holman, Dehnert, Lopshick, Banks, all of them are noted either for their adroitness as an offensive or defensive shark or for their eagle eye when it comes to "shooting" for the basket. But it took Pete Barry, fifth man of these old Shamrocks, to finally originate a bit of publicity for himself.

Barry, it seems, has been coveting under no advance notices. He has not had the colorful write-ups really due him; he has not had the glare of John Paul focused on him for any particular period; he has not had to live up to any startling prognostications concerning his class. Not that Pete Barry is a dub in his racket. Far from it.

Played 17 Seasons.

After a court career of seventeen seasons, during which time he has been in over 2,000 battles, Pete Barry has proved himself the most steady and the most dependable warrior of all his former teammates, for there is proof at hand that this "iron man" has been the only original Celtic to continue at almost the same bristling clip he is accustomed to maintaining on the court in all games. Barry, who is 32, has doped out a system whereby he utilizes just enough energy to have sufficient vitality left over for an ensuing contest, which, in pro basketball, is usually close upon the heels of its predecessor. Year after year Barry's system has stood him in good stead. Unlike many of his league members, Pete does not give his "all" for any one game. Managing to coast along at a speedy and consistent pace is satisfactory to him, and though it may not attract spontaneous attention to his antics, nevertheless, over a long period it enables him to unlimber that smooth-styled, aggressive, well-timed play of his.

Stalwart of Team.

Now one of the stalwarts of his team, Barry has a memorable and highly unusual background. At one time he managed to indulge in an entire contest for the Celtics with a broken collar bone. At another time he engaged in as many as three battles within twenty-four hours; and at still another he was in the line-up at Schenectady in the afternoon and at Pittsfield, Mass., the same evening. A motor car trip over snow-blocked highways for four hours failed to take the edge off his marvelous condition and did not succeed in robbing him of that startling store of virility that is his.

Pros Face Stratton Combine

Tilt is Scheduled for Sunday at Sherwood.

NEARING the end of a successful grid season, the East Liverpool Pros tomorrow will tackle the Stratton Tigers at Sherwood in one of the two remaining games on their schedule.

The other probable will be a game with Midland on Christmas day, although this event is largely a matter of conjecture at present, depending largely on the brand of weather prevailing at the time.

The Stratton eleven was scheduled after Steubenville Independents had cancelled the game billed Sunday on the Steubenville gridiron.

The Pros' Sunday foes boast the services of a number of former Toronto high school gridgers and from end to end and through the backfield presents a formidable array of talent.

The Pros will use their regular squad. The teams will likely line up as follows:

East Liverpool	Stratton
Zamborsky	L. E.
Williams	L. T.
William	L. G.
Keenan	C.
Pesto	R. G.
Sambar	R. T.
Hackett	R. E.
A. Hayes	R. E.
P. Hayes	R. H.
Sherwood	R. H.
Glenn	F.

The starting time is 3 o'clock.

HARD TO PICK

BISON VARSITY

BETHANY, W. Va., Dec. 7.—Basketball material at Bethany is just good enough that no "varsity" has been selected after two weeks of drill. Teams designated as "A" and "B" have opposed one another, but no man can be sure of being permanently on either.

"A" had all the best of the scrimmage at yesterday's work-out. Telfair held the pivot post, Baker and Damschroder the forwards, and Rush and Bruhn played guard positions. They got off to a good start, and then dropped the ball through the hoop from all angles. Damschroder and Baker were dead on close shots, and Bruhn showed an unusual eye on tries from long range.

"B" was kept busy on the defensive. Ronalds and Flading were the outstanding members of this combination, as the offense had little opportunity to get working.

Boxers III, Smoker Bouts Are Delayed

Athletic Club Reschedules Event for Next Week.

Bouts scheduled last night at the recently organized East Liverpool Athletic club were postponed until the forepart of next week, according to announcement today by officers of the organization.

As a result of illness of several of the participants in the bouts arranged for the occasion, it was necessary to call off the card.

Efforts will be made to hold the delayed smoker as early as possible next week.

OLD STAR HITS GRID REPORT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7.—The Carnegie Foundation's bulletin No. 23 was not published until after the West had established itself as the football leader of the country.

So declared Dr. Tully Knoles, president of the College of the Pacific at Stockton, Cal., in an address "The Psychology of Sport" at the annual football luncheon of the San Francisco Ad club.

"As the oldest living quarter-back from the University of Southern California I have nothing but four stars to show for four years of effort in a Trojan uniform—let the Carnegie Foundation make the most of it," he said.

America, he said, needs football because it strengthens the national backbone. It teaches a valuable lesson "hold on to the ball. Rugby failed because it taught a lesson already known—get rid of the ball, or in other words 'pass the buck'."

Dr. Knoles said.

Packed stadia, he said, do not frighten him where the main interest is academic and not athletic.

Ohio Wesleyan will be strong again this season having two regulars who made the first all-Buckeye team available along with four other lettermen who have had considerable conference experience.

Floyd Sigenthaler, Alliance, all-Buckeye center and high scorer in the conference last season, has turned his attention again from the gridiron to the basketball floor and promises to play his usual brilliant game. Francis Thomas, Ravenna, erstwhile halfback, is getting ready to battle to hold the position as all-Buckeye guard which he won last season.

Coach Ray Detrick also has some good sophomore material at Ohio Wesleyan in Eric Gaudrup, Ray Village, Howard Glaven, Springfield, and Forrest Campbell, Delaware.

Lisbon Session Called

East Liverpool, Wellsville Entries Doubtful.

Progress in steps looking toward the organization of the Columbiana County Amateur Basketball league, a circuit which for several years enjoyed more than ordinary success but which failed to function last season, will be discussed at a meeting of league enthusiasts tomorrow night in Lisbon.

Cage promoters in several cities and towns have been working diligently for the last several weeks in an effort to arouse sufficient interest in the circuit to organize a six-club loop.

The results of their endeavors likely will be summarized at tomorrow's session.

As the situation now stands, Damascus and Salineville are "hot" for the reorganization of the circuit. Salem is reported to be ready to put in a team.

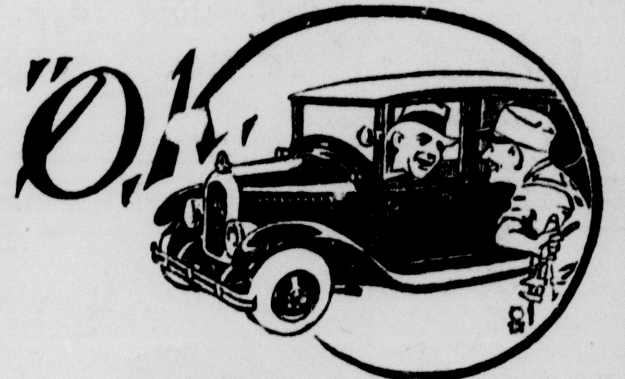

An independent outfit has been lined up in Lisbon, and the county seaters, it is said, are viewing with favor a berth in the court group.

That accounts for four of the six entries who are reasonably certain of joining. East Liverpool and Wellsville are the two others and, unquestionably, the most doubtful of any.

The Elks' lodges here and in the neighboring city have sponsored county league entries in former years but are taking no interest in the proposal this season. If these two cities are to have representation in the loop, the task of organizing teams will have to be borne by others.

Albie Booth Will Pep Up Yale Cagers

Seven Veterans Return From Last Year's Squad.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 7.—Yale looks to a basketball season full of interesting things this year. A new coach, Elmer Ripley, of Georgetown, comes here from the Washington institution with a record of having lost only three games in the three years he was coach there.

A new player comes to the Varsity who is expected to make things hum, and, incidentally, is by many expected to draw Yale's biggest basketball crowds: Albie Booth, the "spark plug" of the Varsity football team.

Seven veterans from the team of 1928-29 are coming back to the basketball team of 1929-30 including A. C. Beane, the alert football player, who took Marster's fumble out of the air in the Dartmouth game and scored Yale's first touchdown against the Indians.

Leaders Return.

E. L. Nassau and J. W. Cook, who were in the first ten scorers of the Eastern Intercollegiate basketball league last year, also are back. Austin E. Nanty, of West Haven, Conn., is captain of the team this year.

When the student body was called into a basketball meeting to plan the season's work announcement was made that Coach Ripley would have charge of both Varsity and Freshman teams this year, thus starting a plan of action new in Yale basketball.

The Yale Varsity team attracted upward of 15,000 spectators in the five league games it played away from home last year. Yale broke even with Dartmouth and Columbia, the strong teams of the

On Buckeye Circuit

Coach Joe Hermann refuses to be enthusiastic about the prospects at Wittenberg. The Lutherans finished in fourth place last year. "Little Joe" Keyser about whom Wittenberg's offense has been built in recent years graduated last June and the Lutherans feel somewhat lost without this all-Buckeye star. Alex Kish, Bucyrus, who won all-Buckeye honors at guard last year has undergone an operation which makes his participation doubtful and leaves another big hole in the Wittenberg lineup.

The Springfield team has plenty of regulars and other lettermen back though in Capt. "Red" Maur-league, winning two games from Princeton, and then losing the two to Cornell and Pennsylvania. Losing two games by one point each to Dartmouth and Columbia, Yale narrowly missed a second-place finish.

Harvard Not a Member.

Harvard, which is not a member of the league, lost to Yale. Incidentally it was the first time in six years that Yale took both Princeton and Harvard into camp in basketball.

Coach Ripley, in making his first address to Yale men, pointed out that he was hoping good things would come out of his first season as a coach at Yale, and then insisted they must at all times play clean basketball even at the sacrifice of possible scores.

Booth, who is probably Yale's greatest all-around athlete, was captain of the Freshman basketball team last year, just as he was of the Freshman football and baseball teams, and his work carried the Freshmen to many victories. Now Yale looks to him to perform prodigiously at basketball this winter.

AVIATION GREAT FUTURE IN AVIATION

During the past year tremendous progress has been made throughout the United States in raising the general standard of flying schools.

The haphazard individual instruction of yesterday has given way to highly organized institutions of training which will undoubtedly go a long way toward providing properly trained men for the different branches of Aviation, America's fastest growing industry.

The "Tex" Rankin System, prepared by that well-known pilot, is used exclusively in our training in both the ground and flying divisions. Our equipment is rated as satisfactory to turn out the best mechanics or pilots. We will not "Solo" a student unless he can fly safely, regardless of the hours it may take.

Persons desiring to take up the study of Aviation for education or professional lessons should enlist at once, in order to get far enough along to get the benefit of the superior flying conditions that exist in the winter months. No trouble to give you full details and terms. Call at Trotter's Chevrolet Sales Rooms, Market Street, on Tuesday or Friday Evenings, 7:30 to 9 p. m. Ask for Swaney, or Cooper, or Seyler.

Liverpool townships, George M.
Bells; Lisbon, R. F. D.; Hanover and West townships, Howard D.
Baker; East Rochester; Middleton
and St. Clair townships, James C.
Gaston, Clarkson.

This is the seventh year the health league has sponsored the sale of seals, and in this period 202 boys and girls have attended the summer camps.

BLANCHE DYKE ASKS DIVORCE

LISBON, O., Dec. 7.—Mrs.
Blanche Dyke, of East Palestine,
who was married nine months ago,
has filed a divorce action against her husband, Norman Dyke. She charges infidelity, and asks the custody of their child.

The petition of the plaintiff in the divorce action filed by Michael Wellman was withdrawn when the case was called in common pleas court, and the issue went before the court on the cross petition filed by his wife, Amelia Wellman.
A decree was awarded Mrs. Wellman, who was also given the custody of a minor child. A decree for alimony has been entered.

Romy Prescott was ordered by the court to pay his former wife, Mazie Prescott, $15 weekly for the support of minor children when she obtained a divorce decree on June 17, 1927, and now Prescott has been ordered to appear before Judge W. F. Lones next Monday and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt.

Columbus Man Will Attend County Meet Dec. 13.

LISBON, O., Dec. 7.—H. S. Ballard, of Columbus, chief counsel for the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation for the last 12 years, will attend the Columbiana County Farm Bureau annual meeting here in the First Presbyterian church, Friday, December 13. Ballard, author of the cooperative marketing law, will speak on "Ten Years of Progress."
Mrs. N. L. Steva of St. Marys, director at large of the Ohio bureau, will discuss "The Women's Part in the Farm Bureau."

During the forenoon session persons who have been continuous members of the county organization for 10 years will be presented with service buttons. George Cool-ey, father of The Farm bureau in Ohio, will make the presentation.
Several entertainment features will be offered. Reports of the extension agents and service manager will be made and officers elected.

D. F. Hahn, president, will give a report of the annual meeting of the American Farm bureau.

Cumberland: Paden Wedding.
LISBON, O., Dec. 7.—James
Paden of Youngstown, and Miss Beulah Cumberland of Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Cumberland, were married at the parsonage of the Lisbon Christian church by the Rev. F. C. Lake.
Francis L. Scally of New Brighton, Pa., a steel worker, and Miss Grace Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Patton of East Palestine have obtained a marriage license.

337 TAX SUITS FILED IN COURT

LISBON, O., Dec. 7.—Prosecutor Attorney John Bauknecht has filed 337 tax suits in common pleas court. There were 95 actions filed six weeks ago, and today 243 additional suits were made a matter of record. In the Columbiana school district, 63 suits have been instituted against one person.

Moose Lodge Leases Home.
LISBON, O., Dec. 7.—The Lisbon lodge of Moose has taken a long term lease on the W. C. Deville property, South Jefferson street, which is being remodeled and will be ready for occupancy within three weeks. L. W. Boring of Lisbon, deputy game warden for Columbiana county, is dictator of the lodge.

Real Estate Transfers.
LISBON, O., Dec. 7.—The following real estate transfers have been filed:
Frederick Schneider and wife to
I. H. Aronson, lots 3723-29-30 in Pleasant Heights, East Liverpool,
$5.
Mullins Manufacturing company to Emanuel C. Kinsley, part of acre in Arch street, Salem, $500.
Mary A. Votaw and others to Russell McCann and wife, lot 279
in Evans' sixth addition, Salem, $10.

Arvine E. Bailey and others to Irvin T. Cobbs, 46.16 acres in section 2, Knox township, $10.

Many War Medals Pawned.
Disclosure that 90 per cent of war medals awarded after the conclusion of the World war are in European pawn shops or have been sold to relieve distress has caused much surprise there. Although it is a punishable crime to pledge or accept as a pledge a Victoria Cross, about a dozen have found the way to "Uncle," and on each about $5 has been advanced.
The average valuation of a silver medal is 35 cents.

FOUR HOLDUP SUSPECTS HELD

Bridgeport, O., Police
Nab Alleged Bank
Bandits.

BRIDGEPORT, O., Dec. 7.—(INS.)
Four suspects in the $216,000
Columbia City, Ind., bank holdup, during which an innocent woman bystander was shot and killed, are being held in jail here today.

Authorities also linked the men's names with the Canadian mail robbery in which $180,000 in federal securities was obtained.

Three of the men arrested are Joseph White, Joseph Sarcena and William King. Police refused to disclose the name of the fourth man.

All were arrested during a police round up of suspicious characters.
The arrests ended a year's nationwide police hunt.

the national finals of the contest will be held.

Woman Leaps 8,600 Feet in Parachute

LEIPZIG. — A parachute jump from a height of 8,600 feet was performed by a well known parachute jumper, Mrs. Lola Schroeter-Vore-scu here. She landed safely in Moeckern, four miles from where she left the airplane.

This long way through the air
was due to the fact that Mrs.
Schroeter-Voreseu weighs only 97 pounds. It was her nineteenth jump after a five years' successful career in this sport.

Sat in a Draft—Then Suffered!
It's never safe to sit where a draft of air strikes the kidneys.
Painful congestion, severe backache, and a disturbed urinal flow are usual results. "Impossible to sleep, and my back ached so I could neither sit nor lie down in comfort. Foley Pills diuretic cleared away the pain and stiffness, and I am no longer troubled with night calls, and sleep soundly," so says
D. McMillen, Hudson, N. Y. Men and women everywhere use and recommend them.—Adv.

Book Causes Scare.
What John Burns, England's first labor cabinet member, might tell in his forthcoming book, is causing something of a ferment. As he pens his recollections, certain politicians are said to be shuddering.
Of course, there are many skeletons of pre-war days that the retired statesman could rattle dole-fully, but will he? It is a question that agitates not a few and that John Burns has not yet answered.
